

THE NEW ATLANTIS

A JOURNAL OF TECHNOLOGY & SOCIETY

NUMBER 18 ~ FALL 2007

ESSAYS:

Achieving Energy Victory 3

Robert Zubrin on how to win the war on terror by breaking free of oil

Ghosts in the Evolutionary Machinery 26

Steve Talbott on digital organisms and disembodied science

A HALF-CENTURY IN SPACE

The Conquest of Space and the Stature of Man 43

Hannah Arendt on scientists, common sense, and man's limitations

Man in Space: Great and Small 56

Responses to Arendt from Patrick J. Deneen, Rita Koganzon, Charles T. Rubin, Stephen Bertman, and Peter Augustine Lawler

REVIEWS & RECONSIDERATIONS:

Launching the Space Age 81

James E. Oberg on the dramatic story of Sputnik

The New Pioneers 88

Rand Simberg on the burgeoning private space industry

The Evangelical Ecologist 94

S. M. Hutchens on E. O. Wilson's Earth-piety

The Painless Peace of Twilight Sleep 99

Cheryl Miller on an overlooked Edith Wharton gem

STATE OF THE ART:

A Continuing Survey of Technology and Society 107

- Autism and the Vaccines Controversy Caitrin Nicol
- Hillary Clinton's Science Agenda Leaves the Facts Behind Tuval Levin
- Commerce, Community, and Crime on Craigslist Christine Rosen
- The Unfortunate Decline of Orson Scott Card Peter Suderman
- Michael Griffin on the Global Space Economy
- Notes & Briefs: Blackwater Fallout, Caves on Mars, Missing Mass, etc.

LOOKING AHEAD, LOOKING BACK:

First Ripples of the Silver Tsunami 134

The Heartbeat Heard Round the World 135
